

BATTERIE

Posted by Courtney Edstein on October 14, 2013 in Artists, New Music, Video · 0 Comments

Sydney has done yet another excellent job at providing us with a musically gifted all-rounder, with musician/composer/producer, BATTERIE releasing an electronically layered masterpiece with more jazzy fidgety beats. This solo artist, otherwise known as Jared Underwood, has crafted his new release Spring Step by incorporating a hybrid drum kit alongside triggers, a keyboard, loop pedals and more.

BATTERIE performed live last year at the Opera House supporting Gang Gang Dance and followed it up this year by winning Tropfest 2013 when he played at Tropfest to 80,000 people.

This time he's teamed up with dancer Lo-Arna Evangeline Okan to create a simplistic video of an angelic dancer contrasted in a grungy abandoned warehouse laced in graffiti. Her moves and the colours alongside his beats, just works.

Check out the video above!

FIND OUT MORE ON

Sign up for the Happy Newsletter

Email Address

Subscribe

Join us on Facebook